A Multidisciplinary Approach to Managing KIDNEY STONES

DINNER EVENT: FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14, 2018
5:30 - 8:00 PM

New Kidney Stone Clinic!

The University of Arizona Divisions of Urology and Nephrology announce the opening of our new Stone Clinic and invite you to an exciting CME event! Focusing on a collaborative approach to the prevention and management of kidney stones, enjoy dinner with colleagues as experts in the field share their insights and experience.

245 E INA RD.
TUCSON, AZ
85704

WESTWARD LOOK
WYNDHAM GRAND RESORT & SPA
The Soul of the Southwest

Keynote Speaker

DAVID S. GOLDFARB, MD
- Professor of Medicine & Physiology, New York University (NYU)
- Chief, Nephrology, NY Harbor VA
- Past President, R.O.C.K. Society and New York Society of Nephrology

Agenda

5:30-5:35 PM
Welcome
Benjamin Lee, MD
Professor, Chief, Division of Urology

5:35-5:45 PM
Multidisciplinary Approach to Kidney Stones
Sireesha Koppula, MD
Physician Executive, Population Health and Clinical Informatics, Beaumont Medical Group

5:45-6:30 PM
Update on Nephrolithiasis
David S. Goldfarb, MD
Keynote Speaker

6:30-6:45 PM
AUA Guidelines for Surgical Treatment of Kidney Stones
Benjamin R. Lee, MD
Professor, Chief, Division of Urology

6:45-7:00 PM
Radiation Safety in Stone Patients
David T. Tzou, MD
Assistant Professor, Division of Urology

7:00-7:15 PM
Evidence-Based Nutrition Recommendations for Prevention of Kidney Stones
Kathryn Taylor, RD
Registered Dietician

7:15-8:00 PM
Panel Discussion & Closing

RSVP BY DECEMBER 6, 2018!
Rosemary Balderrama
520-626-6895 | rosemary@surgery.arizona.edu